Subject: Microsoft Settlement

None of the arguments that I might make regarding this settlement are likely to be ones which have not been heard before. So I will be brief, and simply state that I feel very strongly that Microsoft must be dealt with in a manner appropriate to its actions. It has acted illegally, and it must now pay the consequences. A breakup would be an ideal solution. Although I realize that a breakup is unlikely, Microsoft MUST not get away with a "slap on the wrist", or it will prove that anyone with enough money can defy even the government.

Thank you for your time.
